

commit irreversibly records the transactions made so far. On the other hand, rollback returns previous transactions if they were not committed.